

Security Awareness and Training

Turn your workforce into threat-savvy cyber warriors.

ASSURA[™]
Cybersecurity uncompromised.

Ready to suit up with custom or tailored training solutions?

Your employees are on the frontlines when it comes to malicious attacks like phishing, malware, ransomware, and a whole host of other tactics used by bad actors. Assura offers multiple options to raise awareness of cyber threats in your organization. We also train your workforce to help defend against these relentless attacks. Our training experts are the best in the business at delivering engaging instruction relevant to real-world situations.

Why choose Assura's Security Awareness and Training?

- Our trainers are seasoned experts on top of all the attacks used by the bad guys
- We don't just teach but also regularly test to make sure learning is applied
- End-users will now have the ability to report suspicious emails at the click of a button
- When coupled with our email security solution, Security Orchestration, Automation, and Response (SOAR) can be added to automate your response to new mail-borne threats
- You'll receive our exclusive Cyber Heads-Up to alert your organization of breaking news, critical updates, and emerging threats that need your attention. We also offer awareness and training related to these alerts.

Assura offers two types of training:

Tailored automation

- Tailored based on your specific needs
- Uses content gamification, bitesize videos, and other interactive tools
- Ensures employees remain engaged with their required training
- Role-specific for IT, Finance, HR, and any other division
- Designed based on industry, goals, and regulatory requirements
- Social engineering tests geared toward teaching team members, not creating a "gotcha" moment

Customized training

- Customized to fit the organization and those taking part in the training
- Can be in-person, virtual, and computer-based training
- For specific groups, including board members and executive leadership
- Custom instruction plans to best fit the audience, goals, and regulatory requirements
